The obvious answer to the question how we know about the experience of others is that they are communicated to us, either through their natural manifestations in the form of gestures, tears, laughter, play of feature and so forth, or by the use of language. A very good way to find out what another person is thinking or feeling is to ask him. He may not answer, or if he does answer he may not answer truly, but very often he will. The fact that the information which people give about themselves can be deceptive does not entail that it is never to be trusted. We do not depend on it alone; it may be, indeed, that the inferences which we draw from people's non-verbal behavior are more secure than those that we base upon what they say about themselves, that ( А ) speak more honestly than ( В ). But ( С ) that we can rely a great deal upon words, we should know very much less about each other than we do.

30. Fill in the blanks ( A ) and ( B ) with the most appropriate words.

- ① actions words
  ② words actions
- (3) thoughts feelings (4) feelings thoughts
- 31. Fill in the blank ( C ) with the most appropriate expression.
- ① were it ② it were ③ were it not ④ it were not
- 32. Choose a statement that may be inferred from the above passage.
- It may be that the inferences from non-verbal behavior are not more secure than those from words.
- ② Asking a person is the only good way to find out his thinking or feeling.
- ③ If the information from people is deceptive, it is never to be trusted.
- ④ If we could not rely on words, we should have less information about each other.

Homeopathy is an alternative healing method which can be more effective than conventional approaches and it can also be safer. In a homeopathic treatment, the patient is not only given a specific medication but also given advice on changes in diet and other health related lifestyle patterns. Homeopathic medicine works on the same principle as all effective vaccines - "treat like with like." This medication is composed of whatever is making the patient ( А ). The advantage is that rather than treat the symptoms, a homeopathic treatment helps the body to build resistance to the bacteria or virus causing the illness. The patient can also avoid many side effects brought on by conventional medication, most commonly antibiotics. Many people are turning to homeopathy due to this holistic approach. In addition, in many cases a homeopathic treatment produces results where conventional methods fail.

33. Fill in the blank (  $\ A$  ) with the most appropriate word.

- ① recovered ② comfortable ③ sick ④ better
- 34. Choose a statement that may not be inferred from the above passage.
- ① Homeopathy is an alternative healing method to conventional approaches.
- ② Vaccines work on the same principle as homeopathic medicine.
- ③ Many side effects brought on by conventional medication can be avoided by a homeopathic treatment.
- ④ The usage of antibiotics is sometimes included in homeopathy.

Samuel Johnson asks why Shakespeare has kept the favor of his countrymen and answers his question by declaring that it is because he avoided the "irregular combinations of fanciful invention," for "just representations of general nature."In the writings of other poets a character is too often an individual; in those of Shakespeare it is commonly a species." In other words, Johnson sees a Shakespeare who followed Johnson's dictum and did not (a)number the streaks of the tulip. Yet much in Shakespeare is not acceptable to Johnson. "The end of writing is to instruct; (b)the end of poetry is to instruct by pleasing," and Shakespeare is not moral enough. "He sacrifices ( c ) to convenience, and is so much more careful to please than to instruct that he seems to write without any moral purpose."

35. What does (a) mean?

- ① discriminate minute differences
- 2 recall the original
- ③ appreciate nature methodized
- ④ enjoy the beautiful color
- 36. Horace formulates (b) the _____ theory of poetry.

game
 sugar-coated-pill give and take inspiration

37. Choose the most proper word in the blank ( c )?

① representation ② virtue ③ damage ④ prejudice

38. According to the above passage, Samuel Johnson thinks that the business of a poet is to examine, not the individual but the species: to remark ______ and large appearances.

① rustic language
 ② superior men
 ③ teacher of facts
 ④ general properties

The tide of working women is sweeping the country, with various consequences, some with obvious or predictable than others. One hardly needs to mention the economic effect of their activities, since more than fifty percent of families are now living on (A) incomes. But few people would have guessed ten years ago that the entry of women in the working world would affect the development of the suburbs. Yet working women, having little time to waste on commuting from their office to their kitchen, are taking middle-class families back to the cities that they have deserted in the last twenty year. (B) the city is the place where most jobs are.

39. Fill in the blanks ( A ) and ( B ) with the most appropriate words.

① two - As	② two - For
③ many - As	④ many - For

40. Choose a statement that may not be inferred from the above passage.

- ① It was guessed by some people ten years ago that the development of the suburbs would be affected by working women.
- ② Working women should be very busy because of their job and housework.
- ③ Middle class families are taken back to the cities by working women that had been deserted in the last twenty years.
- ④ The economic effect of working women's activities is very clear because more than fifty percent of families depend on the income made by working women.
